

Title: Employee Attendance, Punctuality, and Reporting Policy

1. Policy Overview

Regular and predictable attendance is a core requirement for every role within our organization. Punctual attendance ensures efficient business operations, balances team workloads fairly, and maintains overall corporate productivity.

2. Expectations and Punctuality

The standard workday begins promptly at 9:00 AM. Employees are expected to be at their designated workstations—whether in the office or logged in remotely—and ready to begin working at the scheduled start time. Arriving or logging in more than 15 minutes late without prior managerial notification is documented as an unexcused tardiness.

3. Absence Notification Procedure

If you are unable to report to work due to an illness or unforeseen emergency, you must notify your direct supervisor via email or phone call no later than 8:00 AM on the day of the absence. For planned absences, time-off requests must be submitted and approved in advance through the HR system. Unexcused, unreported absences for three consecutive business days will be treated as job abandonment and voluntary resignation, triggering immediate termination protocols.

Additional Policy

Employees must be physically present in the office 5 days per week.
